ABSTRACT

This article is currently in the modern preschool education system how important is the role of the fairy tale and what achievements can we achieve with its help and it has been mentioned about what losses will happen if it does not exist. Take our future into your hands to the people who know and mature in the spirit of patriotism, who have a deep worldview and are talented about educating the young generation who will benefit from it.[1]

Key words: A fairy tale, modern education, technology, outlook, ecology, dream, future.

Introduction

In our modern education, fairy tales are used in elementary, that is, preschool age Education of children is an important and solid foundation for our future passes. After all, the vocabulary, outlook, and thinking of a child who grew up listening to fairy tales and aspirations are much richer than other children. Fairy tales are dreams and hopes for children teaches in a very elegant way, for this reason in state organizations before school and if we promote education with the help of fairy tales in non-governmental organizations, our children will be in the future they will be able to achieve unprecedented achievements.[2] Today we live in the age of technology. "Plane, you know what a rocket is, even if you say that I will make a small replica of an airplane that flies in the air, I will believe The reason is in the mass media, that is, in the Internet, newspapers and magazines how to make it is shown. Have you ever thought about the scientists who created these things? Where did they get the information about or the first impression? I will reveal this secret to you, which was the basis of many discoveries of those scientists they got the ideas from folk tales! One of the proofs of this is "Flying Carpet". After all, before the concept of flying technical equipment appeared, it was very long ago people began to think about flying into the sky. These are verses that say that fairy tales are the hopes and dreams of our ancestors who lived long ago we can add another argument to our lines.[3]

Main Body

This method gives effective results, because children are very good at imitation and to imitate the good characters or people they have heard or seen they act. In particular, the fairy tale "Mouse and Pen", this fairy tale is simple and bright characters attract, one of them embodies good, the other evil helps children to think and draw, to listen carefully, to understand things, teaches empathy and resistance to evil. Injustice in the fairy tale “Strike the hammer” It makes children aware of bad vices such as dishonesty, tyranny and coercion. This fairy tale “Nightingale” is written by G.H. Andersen, it is noble for children, teaches kindness, empathy and increases interest. As we can see, it is like this children easily acquire knowledge and skills in fairy tales. This is for clarification purposes

I will list what tasks we can perform using the method.

So this method allows us to perform the following tasks.

- Development of correct and expressive speech in children.
- Formation of a healthy lifestyle, healthy and proper nutrition.
- Introducing the environment, nature and art.
- Development of creative abilities, skills and qualifications.
- Mental and moral upbringing of children.
- Resolving conflict situations between children in a mutual partnership.

We can also say that fairy tales are a communication environment for children and the child feels calmer than ever, and together with his peers does not hesitate to communicate. This is to integrate with society in the future increases the child's self-confidence. Our youth, who are the future of our country, are mature, knowledgeable and competent in all aspects. It is obvious that it is in our hands to educate as a person and a perfect person, for this reason, we are all united not to give children cell phones from their early days let's give them a fairy tale book full of colorful pictures, their children's worldview let's develop further without breaking it and let's take our young generations, who are the future of our country, from their hands let's catch it and direct it towards goodness.[4]

Conclusion

In conclusion, we can say that the children of our country fairy tales have a great role in education. A person is not an ordinary person in our society and above all, stories about how to grow into a person who will be useful to himself and his family it is irreplaceable and incomparable, because fairy tales represent the worldview of a person. It has the power to fundamentally change and has been passing this power down to generations for centuries. For this reason, the role of fairy tales is piecemeal the void it left is left empty, filling that void or empty and to leave it is up to us. A fairy tale is an elegant view of education, the world of children and us, full of emotions and excitement from the first days when he took it away from children and began to recognize his mind instead, to techniques we cannot replace.
